FIVE CENTS

OUR ROLLING STOCK.

You can get along without collar and cuffs, but you can't do so very well. They are exceedingly useful and when they happen to be all right they are exceedingly ornamental. If they are not faultless you might almost as well be without them. Nothing gives its self away, so to speak, as quickly as a damaged collar or a frayed cuff. People will notice them when they don't notice anything else about you. Why not wear good shirts, good collars, good ties, good underwear, good gloves and hosiery, when we can show you the very best English, French, German, and American goods at the same prices you have to pay for inferior articles anywhere but in an exclusive gentlemen's furnishing and clothing house. There is some satisfaction in wearing our new office shirt: it's made to wear, and fit and not cut your throat with your collar, and costs only $1.25. All the leading makes of W. G. & R. S. Shetlons, Took's & Messer, shirts, collars, cuffs and night shirts.

OUR INDUSTRIES.

Last week we gave some idea of the vast extent of the building operations in Brandon during the past year amounting to no less a sum than $450,000. This week we propose touching upon a business closely connected with the above improvements one of the most indispensable, viz., the manufacture and handling of doors, windows, sash, turned work, lines, glass, etc. First we must commend the reader to Assiniboine Avenue, just north of the C.P.R. track. Here he will find the extensive planing mill, lumber yard of Messrs. Hanbury & McNea, occupying nearly the whole of Block 94 and several lots on the south side of the avenue. A switch from the C.P.R. runs through the yard and turnpikes are laid from the track direct to the planing room. The firm employ 35 to 40 men and 3 teams and are building six houses on the avenue at a cost of $600, for the accommodation of their employees, and hold a stock valued from $12,000 to $15,000. The lumber is mostly bought from the Minnesota & Ontario Lumber Co., the logs are cut in the States and floated in, thus escaping the duty which has to be paid on dressed lumber. The planing mill, 65 x 55 ft., is of two stories with an annex, and is fitted with the most improved machinery suitable for making doors, sash, windows, mouldings, and all the requisites for house finishing including circular saws, planing and turning machines, manufactured by Cowan & Co., Galt, Ont., and Cant. Gortley & Co., Galt. The yard is filled with all kinds of lumber neatly piled on each side of permanent footwalks all connected with the C.P.R. track. At the time of our visit seven cars were unloading lumber in the yard. Near the mill is the lumber shed, 15x80 ft. and the glazing room, and glass room. The firm purchase their glass direct from Germany; thus saving all middlemen's profits. On one side of the yard is the lime storehouse, the firm having the sole agency for all the gray lime in the country. Not content with their present extensive business, the firm propose to launch out in fresh branches, and intend to manufacture windmills, pumps, etc., encouraged by the glowing prospects now visible on every hand. Mr. Hanbury is a most successful contractor, having built the Post Office and many important buildings. This year he proposes to build two houses for himself on 3rd street, to cost $8,000.

Mr. McNea will also build two of a similar character upon his return from Ont. with his family.

With reference to freight which is of course a considerable item, they consider they receive no great benefit from the N.P.R. entering Manitoba, although it was heralded with so much delight by a certain section of the community.

At the corner of Assiniboine Ave. and 9th St. J. A. Moor has erected a handsome and commodious warehouse with office and cellar, 50 x 100 feet, for carrying on his extensive and still rapidly increasing business, which he has removed from Ross Ave. Entering the ground floor which faces to the south and immediately opposite the C.P.R. depot, one is admitted to a handsome and clean room, 17 x 20 ft., containing samples of the most important goods sold by the firm, including such doors, windows, house furnishings and stained and colored glass, of which the firm carry a large stock of every description—mostly purchased in the States and from Lewis & Taylor, Halifax, Ont. On the right hand is the office, 17 x 20 ft., a well lighted and most convenient room, with every modern requisite for conducting a large mercantile concern in the most expeditious and complete manner. At the back is the warehouse and store room, 17 x 20 ft., in which are stored immense quantities of the goods dealt in by the firm. The second and third floors occupy the entire length of the building, and are covered with turned goods such as posts, banisters, and all other articles necessary for house furnishing, and to complete the arrangement, a host has been constructed capable of lifting one ton at a time, from the cellar to the top floor, thus saving both time and labor. This firm's operations extend over a large area of country, as far as Calgary, on the C.P.R., to the west, and to the Souris and Belts in the north-west; also all points on the M. & N. W. R.V., the C. & N. W. R.V., and to many points on the N.P.R. The amount paid for freight and duty is very considerable, and the import of the N. P. railway to Manitoba has not been of much benefit so far, in the promised reduction of rates. The firm feels that money is now much more plentiful than it was two or three years ago. Notes are really most, and the outlook for the future is most encouraging. A visitor to Brandon should not fail to pay a visit to this establishment, where he will meet with a hearty welcome from the proprietor.

The F. T. Cope Manufacturing Co., is located on 4th street, south of Victoria Avenue. The planing mill, office and lumber yards cover two thirds of the block; 20 lots, 70 x 200 feet, or nearly so large. Trampways are laid from the N. P. track right into the yard as far as the drying room. The planing mill is 75 x 50 feet, and is fitted with the latest and most approved machinery. On the ground floor is the engine and boiler room, a joining the machine room. The engine is fitted with a double pump, pumping cold water into the tank and hot water from there into the boilers. Attached is the Barkly hot air dist. dry kiln, for drying all lumber used at the works in a most perfect manner. The same engine generates the thirty electric lights of sixteen candle power, used on the premises. There are also large and small planers for doing light work quickly, machines for siding, ceiling, and floorings, 2 turning lathes, fret work machines, circular saws, &c. The hand re-sawing machine for squaring veneers one sixteenth of an inch, a special automatic grinding machine, from the United States, which will grip a tool, turn it about, run it up and down, and put as good an edge on as the most approved workman could desire.

On the first floor is another special machine from the States, for turning out sash, doors &c., and is fitted up with a Temon machine for boring mortices. A four sided moulding machine for doing work on the four sides at once; special machine for window and door frames, fitted with lever for the foot, outside blind machines, machine for re-fishing doors, scroll saws.

The whole of the machines are fitted with exhaust funnels connected with the large 40 ft. fan, which draws the shavings to the top of the building and then drops them in the engine room to be used for fuel, and the engine which does the whole of this work is the Brown valve, automatic cut of engine, made by Thos. Worswick, Guelph, of 39 horse power. The firm puts all their doors and sash through the three drum Bellait "Invincible" roller, the only one in the province.

It is a machine for planing all kinds of wood work, and is in extensive use by all the largest firms in the trade, throughout the States.

In the yard is the storage shed, 100 x 20 ft., for mouldings &c. An immense stock of about 3,000,000 feet of lumber is piled all around, including a large quantity of oak for special work. Six cars are unloading lumber from the N.P. railway, consisting of American white pine. The line shed 21x16 and the glass shed are adjacent, the firm being large importers of both planing and ornamental glass. The office, 25 x 10 ft., is most conveniently and elegantly designed. It is finished in oak and cedar and is a worthy adjunct to this one of the latest and most remarkable additions to the town and trade of Brandon.

The founder and head of the firm is a young man, but by increasing activity and energy he has raised himself in four years from the position of journeyman to be one of the leading contractors in the city. He built last year the Fleming block, $35,000, the City Hall, $20,000, and many others of less importance and too numerous to mention here. His planing mill and office cost $12,000 without the land, but not included in rest on their lands in this new and pushing country. They intend to manufacture brick this season, the extent of 2,000,000 of the best white brick. Their intention is to turn out doors, sash, windows, outside Venetian blinds, and every description of house furnishings at such prices (and in such condition of excellence, manufacturing everything on the premises themselves) as will drive out American concerns out of the market entirely. The visitor should not fail to visit this one of the latest and most developments of Brandon.

ELECTION NOTES.

In Souris, the Conservatives have nominated Mr. Stratton, a staunch farmer of the constituency, who if elected would make a most creditable representative. The services of Mr. Campbell to that part of the country are too well known to require comment. He had it in his power to accomplish a great deal for the N.P. through that country. He thought better however, of preserving the skin of the "Liberal" Government than of the interests of his constituents and left it for the C. P. R. when the Greenwayites overruled the country in a million and a half of dollars to fight, to carry on the work.

R. T. OTT.

A good strong Council of the Royal Templars of Temperance was organized on Friday evening last, by Bro. I. B. Robinson of Winnipeg, Grand Secy. of this order, for the Province, assisted by Mr. Miles McKay of Brandon. The meetings will be held every Tuesday night in the C. O. F. Hall. All temperance people and others are cordially invited to identify themselves in this cause. In the coming election the members are expected to take an active part towards canvassing for the success of the Prohibitionists.

OAK LAKE.

Geo. D. Miller is busy with the Voters List.

The boxer held in Capron's Hall on Thursday afternoon week, under the auspices of the Band of Hope was a success. We understand that they realized quite a sum, which goes toward the organ fund.

Mr. T. J. Parsons has removed to above Dickson's hardware store. J. R. Hood moves into the house vacated by Mr. Parsons. Next week we will tell you who moves into the house vacated by Mr. Hood.

Mrs. Taylor, wife of Chief Justice Taylor, is the guest of Mr. Dickson, M. P.

Mr. John Lambert had a valuable horse killed by a freight train on Friday night. The horse ran away while Mr. Lambert was in one of the stores. They ran for 3 miles west, then turned and ran eastward, and getting on to the track they got stuck in a culvert. A train going west killed one, and the other, from standing in the snow and cold, is not expected to live.

The corner grocery club is in a flourishing condition. After roll call Jumbo was called to the chair but during the evening he never opened his mouth but he put his foot in it. The subject under discussion was the Maple creek trotting steed. Head-light said he could "steer" clear of that, while the "Equis Doctor" at my "steer" our affair. The chairman ruled this out of order. Just the Skyman said that was (that's no) joke. The chairman called the meeting to order, and asked the V. S. to pass around the cigarettes.

An attempt was made to have the places of business closed at 10 o'clock during the summer months, but one of our firms refused to do so because so many of their customers had to come 20 miles to do their trading, and only go into town by 10 o'clock. Then they did their trading, unpacked for home, a distance of 20 miles, at 22 o'clock. This excuse may be sufficient for those who gave it, but otherwise it is a very poor attempt to hide the altogether absorbing passion for the almighty five cent piece.

The terms of office of the teachers representatives of the almighty board expires in June when an election will take place to fill the vacancies. Supt. D. McIntyre, of Winnipeg, and Mr. J. D. Hunt, B.A. of Brandon are the retiring members.

A very interesting event took place at the residence of Mr. R. R. Sharp, Belmont St. Winnipeg, on the 5th inst., where a number of friends assembled to witness the marriage of Miss Eleanor Chambers, sister of Mrs. Sharp, to A. McMillan, V. S. of Oak Lake. The bride was assisted by her sister, Frances, and the groom by his brother, Alex. McMillan, of Carberry. The presents to the bride were costly and numerous. The happy couple took the afternoon train for their future home at Oak Lake.

RICH LITTLE SAM.

How He Gives Out Change to the People.

He Is Passing Thousands of Dollars' Worth of the New Coins Over the Counter Every Day—How It Is Done.

Since change of the new patterns is being discussed at the rate of thousands of dollars daily over what may be called the change counter of the nation at the treasury, says the Washington Star, it is done up pretty in little paper packets, each containing five dollars in dimes, quarters or halves. Also it is put in a coarse muslin bag holding fifty dollars each, with paper tags attached. On every such tag is marked the weight, which should be two pounds twelve and one-half ounces for new and unalloyed coins, together with the date of weighing and the signature of the official weigher. Ordinarily such subsidiary pieces are not given out over the counter in sums of more than five dollars, but to satisfy popular curiosity and also for the sake of getting it into circulation, every one is permitted for the present to procure the freshly designed silver money in as small quantities as may be desired.

The new coins are brought from the Philadelphia mint, where they all are made, in wooden bags. Each bag is five sacks holding one thousand dollars each. They are delivered by the United States express at the basement door on the east side of the treasury, and are wheeled on small trucks to the counting room. In the department of deft-fingered young men sit at tables with stacks of gleaming silver in front of them. They take a double handful at a time, quickly spread out the bright pieces in a single layer over the board, and pick them up by the thumb, one by one, till the remainder has been counted. Then they are packed in boxes, ready to be sent to the money changers. The boxes are filled and closed at the ends in astonishingly. Finally they are placed in drawstring boxes, each of which contains exactly two hundred dollars. So accurately are they made to hold just that amount that the absence of a single coin would be likely to make the shortage visible.

Every sack of silver is weighed after being filled in the same way as the bags are.

It is interesting to stand behind the change counter upstairs in the cash room and see how the business is carried on. The official in charge is enclosed within a sort of wire cage, surrounded on every side by stacks of money in every shape. Piled on the floor are the bags of silver and boxes filled with coins, just as they have been brought up by the elevator from the counting room beneath. Besides the counting room, there are bags of silver dollars, each containing fifty dollars or one hundred dollars, and boxes holding ten silver dollars each, in muslin bags of twenty-five dollars and paper bags of one and five dollars, and boxes of one dollar. At the left of the counting room is a drawer divided into compartments exactly the size of greenbacks and filled with bank and treasury notes and silver certificates of every denomination. The aggregate sum at hand seems enormous, but people come in such rapid succession to the counter that presently the supply of small bills runs low. In response to an order delivered by a messenger two packages are brought, each a foot cube, and neatly done up in brown paper with a label. The official in charge of the change cuts them open with his pen-knife. In one of them are found one thousand one-dollar notes, and in the other as many two-dollar notes. Whenever the teller needs more cash of any kind he simply fills out a blank and signs his initials. The vault clerks deliver him the money and charges it against him.

All the fractional paper currency that comes in for redemption is handed directly over the change counter, new money being given for it. One day lately a package of it containing seventy-one dollars and seventy-three cents was received in this way. The biggest single coin that has reached the treasury is a half dollar. The little notes, neatly done up in a bundle, were so old and worn that the engraving on them was hardly distinguishable. Some curious story might have been told about them, doubtless. Perchance they formed a part of some miser's hoard, hidden away ever since the war. Anyone who has a portion of a bill and has lost the rest can get a fresh one whole one for it by applying at the same counter. Three-fifths of a ten-dollar note is worth ten dollars. Two-fifths is worth five dollars, but a less fragment must be accompanied by an affidavit telling how the balance was destroyed. Among the coins sent in from banks are a good many mutilated and foreign ones. They are thrown out in the counting room. All old copper cents are kept and sent to the mint for recoinage. Likewise it is with the nickel three-cent and bronze two-cent pieces.

BRANDON MAIL.

THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1892.

SIFTON'S BELIEF.

He came to talk on public questions, and not to go on whining, and the first matter which he would deal with was the Peacock affidavit. He pointed out that after a member is elected for a constituency, and gazetted, there are thirty days in which the election may be protested. Now the (Sifton) was gazetted for Brandon North on the 14th day of August, and within the 30 days, on the 12th of September that Peacock declaration was made. "Why did they not protest his election, unless he thought they thought they could prove corrupt practices on the part of himself or agents? Why, because they thought it better to keep the affidavit until the man it charges with corrupt practices is in England. The very day of allowing the time to go by within which a protest might have been entered, stamps upon that declaration, and upon the man handling it, a lack of genuineness. He did not believe a word in the declaration.

The South Winnipeg and Manitou lists were the fairest and best that had ever been compiled in three divisions. Whether a man be a Liberal or a Conservative, if he is a resident of the province for the necessary length of time, and a British subject, his name will appear on the voters lists.

Sifton, the immaculate, made a speech at Carberry, which to disclose the character of the man, calls for some comment. In speaking of Mr. Peacock's affidavit, which sets forth that Chas. Pilling paid $10 bills for votes, he says it is a strange thing that the Opposition should have allowed the time to protest until the man charged with the offence had gone to England. We may mention that one reason was the Conservatives did not believe a man of Sifton's pretensions would work on the principle "the greater the bribe the greater the reward," and give to Pilling the arch corruptionist of this part of Manitoba one of the highest positions in his gift. It is only, however, when they find more about Sifton's crookedness as they will the longer they are acquainted with him, that they will know how to consider him. Sifton again appears to wonder why the Opposition did not protest his election. Honest, innocent man that he is, but a word is necessary to clear that up. He was gazetted on the 26th of August, it is true, and the Peacock declaration was made on the 12th of September. Now no one knows better than Sifton that it is next to an impossibility to bring a protest to a trial within six months after the date of entry. In the light of what is now known even if there was nothing but that Peacock affidavit, it is reasonable to suppose if a petition was entered Sifton would fight the trial as long as he could, and put it off 4 months at least. By that time the session just over would have opened, and according to the law of the land nothing could be done until the session was over. We could now go on with our trial when parliament is virtually dissolved and fight a representative who had no seat. To see the Conservatives spending money "shooting dead things," as the boys say, would give even Sifton considerable amusement. As, of course, Sifton would have no personal knowledge—it is so hard to make a blind man see—of the corruption practiced, Sifton himself could not be pursued and so the protest would fail. Is there a sensible man now in the country that would have suggested a protest to expose the rascaldities of the Sifton gang under such circumstances? But Sifton does not believe Pilling paid money for votes. Well, as there are several declarations to the fact that he did and as Pilling himself acknowledged it after the contest, what Sifton believes is a matter of little account.

If, however, Sifton is desirous of knowing just how his campaign was engineered, we can give him the facts as related to us since by one of the most honorable men of his committee, and whose name we will give to Sifton himself if he desires it. There were two sets of men in the committee—one whose duty it was to go through the country and ascertain where cash and whiskey could be used to advantage. These men did not bring, they merely reported and then James A. Johnston, C. E. Hall, L. M. McLeod, T. D. Macfarlane, H. C. Graham, M. P. P., and others did the bribing. When the campaign again opens in North Brandon the writer will take the trouble to give Sifton something he will have to believe, if he does not believe Pilling paid $10 to Peacock.

We are again told the list in North Brandon was a fair one. It was not a fair one, but if it had some features of fairness who had the electors to thank for it? Mr. Cliffe's friends or Mr. Sifton's tools and emissaries? When the former were put to a cash outlay of over $400, to knock off over 100 bogus names put on for the most part without declarations and some by bogus affidavits, one of which was taken by Sifton himself, making a man swear he was 21 years of age when he was not 21, the fairness and the cause of the fairness of this list may be better understood by the people.

MILK AND DISEASE

Considerable attention has been paid of late years to this question, and there can be no doubt that it is of the greatest importance, for several outbreaks of zymotic diseases have been distinctly traceable to the milk supply. In this city perhaps we can claim to have as thorough supervision as any place in the country, and yet it is possible where there is a large consumption that some defects creep in. Dr. Armstrong, Medical Health Officer for Newcastle-on-Tyne, according to the Albany Cultivator, recently read a paper before the farmers' club of that city, which contained a good deal of practical information. He said the belief was obtaining generally among medical men that the large mortality among infants was due to a great extent, to those children having been fed on the milk of cows suffering from tuberculosis. This, coupled with the fact that tuberculosis was a highly communicable disease called for the strict exclusion of such cows from dairy herds. The dietetic use of milk was to be encouraged, and the consumer was entitled to insist that its purity and wholesomeness should be above suspicion. Milk could be contaminated by the cow eating poisonous vegetables, by disease in the cow herself, by the adulteration or skimming of milk after yield, by foul air or foul water, or fungi. The adulteration of milk might poison the consumer, by reason of the milk cans being washed in foul water. The four most important diseases which might be communicated to man through milk were enteric fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria and tuberculosis. In the first three, when due to the milk supply, they generally appeared as outbreaks, were often very sudden in their invasion, and with large dairy businesses they became a widespread epidemic in a few days. Milk itself might be diseased, as the product of a diseased animal, and so was tuberculosis (consumption). Tuberculosis cows yielded rich-looking milk in large quantities, even when in an advanced stage of disease, and the danger to health was consequently very great. The sanitary condition of dairies, alike in towns and country was not sufficiently looked after. Dairies in town and country had defects in this respect. It would be a great improvement to have all dairy arrangements planned and carried out on the most strictly hygienic principles. Cleanliness was essential in every respect. One of the general defects in the management of dairy cows on farms was the water supply, which was very often far from satisfactory, and incompatible in purity with the water supplied to cows in towns. On the other hand, dairies in towns were often over-crowded and badly lighted, and no attempt was made to keep animals as clean as horses. Dr. Armstrong, who strongly recommends the use of glass jars instead of cans for the carriage of milk, declared that the public ought to be protected. It was to the interests of seller, producer and consumer that the milk should be above suspicion. In cases of outbreaks of infectious diseases, associated with milk supply, the sanitary authority should have power to demand from the retailer the name and address of the producer of the milk.

Mr. J. B. Chambers, of Wawanese, was on Monday nominated to contest South Brandon with Jumping Jack Graham, who is going to stump with an Edison machine. If the electors have any regard for their future they will give Chambers a handsome majority. All that Graham did for the country since he first entered the House was to introduce an abortive bill to force doctors to accept two pence half penny for visits, to vote on all other measures as Greenway told him, and help buy votes for Sifton in the late North Brandon contest.

Mr. Thomas Greenwood is now deep in his canvass in North Brandon, and is meeting with the best of success. We do not say there is anything in the cry "Local man" for the reason that if a man is not fit to represent a constituency, the circumstance of residence will not give him fitness; but there are those who say there is. Mr. Greenwood is not an experienced politician but he is a level-headed common sense man, and will know the effects of a legislative act upon the country as well as Mr. Sifton. He is also a very successful man in his own business affairs. He is a farmer with very large interests in North Brandon, and has infinitely more concern for the interests of his constituents than Mr. Sifton. He is a temperance man but not one of the Sifton stamp, who will engage a man to canvass for him, that will debauch the constituency with whiskey. Mr. Greenwood is a man his constituency will feel proud of, after a trial, if they elect him; and every lover of good government in the division should do their best for him.

The word is how is Brandon City going? Of course, no one is absolutely certain how, but every sensible man knows that if Mr. Smart was treated to his deserts he would be left at home by a couple of hundred of a majority. In the last election he positively listened to Greenway telling the peace mayor, reeve, alderman, councillor, commissioner for taking affidavits, county clerk, registrar, or notary public, or before the registration clerk.

Mr. Daly in Reply to Mr. Watson on Manitoba Matters.

MR. DALY. The hon. gentleman is entirely mistaken in believing that Mr. Dyke is unacquainted with Manitoba and the North-West. Mr. Dyke knows more of it than the hon. gentleman does, because he was there before the hon. gentleman was and has travelled over every foot of it. The year before last, when he came out, he did so only to augment the information which he had before. I had the pleasure of meeting him on that occasion, and although I had then lived in the country for nine years, the information he gave me was of great value and interest. He travelled over every foot of Manitoba, the North-West and British Columbia, and it was to inform himself on particular portions of the North-West which he had not visited previously, that he came out. In reference to Mr. McMillan, the hon. Minister of Agriculture is probably as well acquainted with that gentleman as the hon. member for Marquette. I recommended Mr. McMillan to him, and it was under the auspices of the hon. Minister that he first went to England in the interests of immigration.

Mr. McMillan is a good man, he lived in Manitoba and formed the habit of being acquainted with all the requirements necessary to bring out settlers, and he is doing good work. In reference to the general question, I am pleased to hear from the hon. Minister of the Interior that he desires to be in concert with the Government of Manitoba in the Government of the North-West Territories. As a Canadian I hope that he will not only cooperate with those Governments but that he will induce the Government of Ontario, the Government of Quebec and the Governments of the Maritime Provinces to cooperate with the Government of Canada. Although it is important to the whole of Canada that Manitoba and the North-West should be filled up with settlers, it seems, in view of the fact that every year many people are leaving the other provinces to settle in the North-West, that some effort should be made to fill up the places. In Great Britain they would find many tenant farmers who would be delighted to come out to Eastern Canada and take up the homes of those who have gone to the North-West because the tenant farmer, as any person who has studied the subject knows, is an inferior class of man. In Scotland and Ireland, he was a man of considerable means. He has not been doing well during past years, but he has the remnant of a considerable fortune left in almost every instance, and he comes to the country with £1,000 to £2,000 in some instances. Such a man would be a great asset to the country, and it is extraordinary that the attention of the people of Ontario has not been drawn to the fact, and I hope it will be a matter of pleasure and duty to the Minister of the Interior to request the cooperation of the Government of Ontario in this matter. It seems to me there is a duty before the Minister which it would redound to his credit and that of the Government to perform, and that is to make considerable changes in the organization of the British North-West, and to the delivery of Indian supplies, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, to the Government of Ontario and the Northwest Territories.

Forms of tender, containing full particulars relative to the supplies required, dates of delivery, &c., may be had by applying to the undersigned, or to the Indian Commissioner at Regina, or to the Indian Office, Winnipeg. This advertisement is not to be construed as a new proposal, but as a notice of the fact that the Government of Ontario and the Northwest Territories will be satisfied. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

MR. FOSTER. I am sorry to break in upon this interesting discussion, but as we have now sat up three long nights, if there is any more information required concerning this item, it would be better that we should adjourn and resume the discussion another day.

MR. PATTERSON (Brant). I would like to know if this house would apply to immigrants in the United States.

MR. DEWIDNEY. No.

MR. WATSON. I think it would be advisable to extend it to American settlers. It is well known that many of our Canadians are in the United States and certainly they are much better settlers than those from Britain when last seen. A similar award will be paid to 4,000 men and women in their recovery.

"August Flower"

This is the query perpetually on your little boy's lips. And he is it for? No worse than the bigger, older, bolder-headed boys. Life is an interrogation point. "What is it for?" we continually hear from the cradle to the grave. So with this little introductory sermon we turn and ask: "What is August Flower for?" As easily answered as asked: It is for Dyspepsia. It is a special remedy for the Stomach and Liver. Nothing more than this; but this trifling. We know August Flower cures Dyspepsia. We know it will. We have reasons for knowing it. Twenty years ago it started in a small country place in every city and country store, grows one of the largest manufacturing plants in the country and sells everywhere. Why is this? The reason is as simple as a child's thought. It is honest, does one thing and does it right along—it cures Dyspepsia.

INTENSE SUFFERING!

Mr. William Buchanan, 24 years engineer in the Cunard Steamship Company's service, 8 St. John's Road, Kirkcaldy, Liverpool, Lancs., writes: "I suffered two years of agony from an affection in the head which six physicians pronounced incurable. They were divided in opinion as to whether it was acute neuralgia of the head or rheumatic affection of the brain, but all agreed that I could never recover. In my paroxysms of pain it needed two and sometimes three men to hold me down in bed. When at death's door, ST. JACOBS OIL was applied to my head. It acted like magic. It saved my life. I am well and hearty, and have had no return of the trouble."

CREDIT DISCONTINUED.

The undersigned begs to tender his thanks to the public in general for the liberal patronage they have given him, and to announce at the same time, that for the future his business will be continued on the cash basis only. He has experienced that credit makes business much more expensive to deal concerned. The business man and the mechanic must charge more for their wares and work, and the purchaser more for his receipts. He has therefore resolved on collecting at once all outstanding accounts that are collectable, and on bringing work down to hard pan prices for cash. He is ever ready to turn out the best wares that can be done in the country, by the most skillful workmen that cash can engage, and at the lowest prices that are consistent with the cost. This system of business will prove the most satisfactory to all concerned.
